

College Scarves

Product Range

Luke Eyres has been making college scarves for British institutions since the 19th century. The company holds an extensive library of scarf designs, including those of the majority of universities and colleges, which has been carefully preserved and extended over the last two centuries.

Whilst preserving original methods of manufacturing, Luke Eyres offers both a traditional and contemporary range of materials and finishes to meet the needs of schools and sport clubs as well as colleges and universities.

Our made to order service will help you to design a new college scarf for your institution, featuring a bespoke layout of stripes and colours, which will be unique to your university, faculty or club.

Your scarf can also be personalised with high quality embroidery, for example, your institution's logo.
